FOREIGN BROADCAST INFORMATION SERVICE

Of Special Interest This Week

25X1 + At the request of the American Embassy in Managua, FBIS has agreed to translate articles selected by the Embassy which have been censored from the Managua daily LA PRENSA. The articles will be published for use by IC analysts in a series of "Special Translations." [REDACTED]

25X1 + FBIS provided the White House Research Staff with a Kosygin quote on anti-missile systems for use in a Presidential speech. Other SDI/disarmament special services included a response to the CIA General Counsel on whether there had been a shift in the Soviet position on deployment of space-based ABM systems, and assistance to the Stockholm CDE delegation regarding a Soviet INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS article. [REDACTED]

25X1 + FBIS Panama bureau has for the first time monitored via satellite the United Nations television service. The program monitored included speeches by seven world leaders, including Prime Minister Peres. [REDACTED]
